Trisha McElroy is our director of Human Resources and is based in our Cayman Islands office. She has global responsibility for our core HR function across Harneys. She is an experienced HR professional who specialises in employee relations matters, global HR strategy, and HR transformation.

Trisha joined the firm in 2016 as HR manager - Cayman and was promoted to head of People Management and Culture in 2018. Since joining us, she has worked to transform the global HR function. Her Cayman team offers HR services to Cayman clients.

Trisha has over 15 years direct HR experience both in the public and private sector. Prior to joining Harneys, Trisha worked for HSBC where she gained experience in mergers and acquisitions, benefit administration, global mobility, establishing a physical presence and ultimately the winding down of a business. During her tenure with the Cayman Islands government, she provided advice on the labour law and was instrumental in creating the framework for the Labour Occupational Safety and Health Construction Industry Regulation (2008).
